Evaluation of Darkfield and Immunofluorescent Techniques for demonstrating Treponema pallidum in Fluids with Small Numbers of Organisms

F. W. Chandler, Jr., and G. R. Cannefax (U.S.A.)

A New Modification of the Krajian Silver Stain for Treponema pallidum

E. K. Walter, J. Lawton Smith, C. W. Israel, and W. E. Gager (U.S.A.)

The Search for a Vaccine for Syphilis. An Epidemiological Approach

R. W. Thatcher (U.S.A.)

Studies of Syphilitic Antibodies. IV

K. Aho (Finland)

Sero-diagnosis of Gonorrhoea with a Microprecipitin Test using a Lipopolysaccharide Antigen from N. gonorrhoeae

C. W. Chacko and G. M. Nair (India)

Significance of the "Defaulter" in the Assessment of Efficiency of Treatment in Gonorrhoea

A. B. Hewitt (Great Britain)

Simultaneous Isolation of Trichomonas vaginalis and Collection of Vaginal Exudate

D. H. H. Robertson, W. H. R. Lumsden, K. F. Fraser, D. D. Hosie, and D. M. Moore (Great Britain)

Isolation of TRIC Agents from the Human Genital Tract

D. K. Ford and L. McCandlish (Canada)

Non-Specific Urethritis treated with Pyrrolidinomethyl Tetracycline Nitrate

C. B. S. Schofield and G. Masterton (Great Britain)

Oral Tetracycline Phosphate Complex (Tetrex) in the Treatment of Non-Specific Urethritis

E. B. Wijetunga and R. S. Morton (Great Britain)

Lincomycin, Non-Gonococcal Urethritis, and Mycoplasma

G. W. Csonka and R. J. Spitzer (Great Britain)

Non-Specific Urethritis investigated by Ziehl-Neelsen Staining of the Urethral Discharge

A. I. Morrison (Great Britain)