HEALTH LIBRARIES REVIEW
A journal for medical, health and welfare librarians

Editor: Shane Godbolt, Librarian, Charing Cross Hospital Medical School
Assistant Editor: Paul Valentine, Librarian, Coombs Medical Library, Ealing Hospital

Health Libraries Review provides a forum for the exchange of ideas and information among medical, health and welfare librarians. Interdisciplinary and international in scope, the journal publishes original material reflecting current practice and new developments in this field. Full length and review articles, news, reports of meetings, book reviews and letters are all included. It is the official journal of the Medical, Health and Welfare Libraries Group of the Library Association, and incorporates the Group’s Newsletter.

CLINICAL ENDOCRINOLOGY

Scope
Now the Clinical Journal of the Society for Endocrinology, Clinical Endocrinology aims to keep at the forefront of international clinical endocrine research, as well as to publish material of direct interest and relevance to the practising clinical endocrinologist. With a broadened editorial base, it aims to increase significantly the scope and scientific quality of the journal through the link with the Society for Endocrinology.

Clinical Endocrinology publishes papers and reviews which focus on the practical aspects of clinical endocrinology, such as protocols for investigation of endocrine disorders, imaging in endocrinology, endocrine surgery and clinical application of molecular endocrinology. The scope of the commentaries has been widened to encompass reports on all aspects of clinical and laboratory endocrinology including those published in other journals. It also publishes topical research in clinical and laboratory endocrinology. Clinical Endocrinology also features reviews, current therapy papers and cases of the month.

Covered by all the major abstracting services, including Index Medicus, Science Citation Index and Current Contents, Clinical Endocrinology will be essential reading not only for those engaged in endocrinological research, but also for those involved primarily in clinical practice.
