married and or single names, and addresses, first resident posted and date, to the honorary secretaries of the club, at the Manchester Royal Infirmary, together with similar details of any new or old residents known to them so that a complete list can be compiled in preparation for the next dinner to be held in October 1979. Membership of the club is automatic—there is no entrance fee and no subscription.

Equipment for the disabled

Home Management is the third of the new Equipment for the Disabled booklets to be published in the 4th edition. Completely revised and expanded, it shows standard consumer goods, simple home-made aids, and specially designed equipment. It also contains guidelines for selecting equipment and in planning kitchen layouts and suggests solutions to some home management problems. The booklet gives brief details of the items shown, together with manufacturers' and suppliers' addresses, price, and export availability. It is intended for use by professional workers caring for disabled people, but disabled housewives may themselves find useful information. Equipment for the Disabled is at 2 Foredown Drive, Portsaid, Brighton; the price of booklets is £1.50, postage extra.

University applications

Applications so far for university places in October 1977 show a 9.5% increase over 1976, with a rise in the proportion of places in engineering, mathematics, and forestry, but business, management, and accounting; a slight increase in applications for medicine; and a decrease in the proportion of applications for geography, psychology, sociology, and history.
