CONTENTS

Occupational medicine and public health....................... 645
Robert A. Kehoe

Field application of fluorescent antibody technique for identification of group A streptococcus......................... 651
William J. Peeples, D. W. Spielman, and Max D.
Moody

Measuring intercountry expenditures for medical care..... 655
Selma J. Mushkin

Determinants and consequences of mortality trends in Ceylon.......................................................... 659
Harald Frederiksen

Use of teenage student volunteers in a local health department............................................................. 665
Huntington Williams, Ann Miller, and Joseph Gordon

Staphylococcus aureus in domestic animals.................... 673
S. M. Morrison, J. F. Fair, and K. K. Kennedy

New device for diabetes detection............................... 678
C. B. Davis, J. B. Edwards, and A. K. Glover

Mathematical models of radionuclides in milk................ 681
E. K. Harris, D. S. Licking, and J. B. Crouse

Baltimore's slum housing clinic................................. 693
Robert F. Sweeney

Continued ▷

frontispiece

Volunteers in the Baltimore City Health Department supervise preschool children at a well-baby clinic and perform the phosphatase test to determine if milk is pasteurized properly. Story on the teenagers' summer work appears on pages 665–670.
CONTENTS continued

Medicine and public health in China today .......... 699
William Y. Chen

Investigation of acute gastroenteritis at a popular resort area .............. 712
Harold F. Newman

Testing death registration completeness in a group of premature infants .......... 717
Perry B. Rogers, Charles R. Council, and James R. Abernathy

Public health and medical aspects of the Roseberg, Oreg., disaster .......... 727
John H. Donnelly, Max Braden, and Joseph L. Taylor

Short reports and announcements:
Total fitness ........................................ iv
Occupational health notes ............................ 650
Conference on gastroenteric morbidity ................. 654
National Dental Health Center ........................ 658
UCLA School of Public Health ........................ 663
Social dynamite ....................................... 670
Minamata disease. Epidemiologic note ................. 671
Health hazards in uranium mines ...................... 672
Publication announcements ........................... 690
Zoning—Regulation of nonconforming uses. Legal note ....................... 691
Early infectious syphilis increases .................. 692
Education note ........................................ 697
Program notes ........................................ 698
CDC training bulletin ................................ 724
Hospital code for press relations ..................... 725
Hearing aids, wheel chairs, braces, and limbs ........ 726
Translated readings ................................... 734
Federal publications .................................. 735